Your Commissioners herewith submit their Annual Report, and ask for it a candid consideration at your hands. There are several points to which we desire to call your attention, and which may explain the seemingly large expenditure of money, as shown by the Treasurer's Report, which accompanies ours :

1. The increase of our pauper bills. This is due to two reasons : First—The stagnation of business of all kinds throughout the country. People do not feel like engaging in new enterprises which may not give a new dollar for an old one, and consequently the poorer of the laboring classes cannot obtain that amount of employment that they could if times were more prosperous. Second—Tramps. This evil is assuming gigantic proportions throughout the country. Hardly a day passes in many of our towns but what the selectmen are called upon to entertain one or more of this class of vagabonds. They are almost entirely young men, banded together with a code of signals, and there is not one out of twenty of them who would work if they could have it furnished them. They follow the lines of railways through the country, and wherever night overtakes them they manage to be in the vicinity of an officer of the town, of whom they demand entertainment with as much assurance as though they were addressing a landlord, and had plenty with which to pay their bills. The demands presented to your Commissioners by the several towns for caring for this class of people amount to no inconsiderable sum. We trust that our next Legislature will devise some plan by which this nuisance may be in a measure abated.

2. Costs in our criminal cases. As is well known to nearly every tax-payer, Carroll County has of late been the scene of several cold-blooded murders, and the trials of the alleged criminals has cost the County large sums. The cost of Buzzell's trial was nearly three thousand five hundred dollars, and he is to be tried again at the approaching Term, and it is not probable that the new trial will cost any less. The Cone trial cost the county nearly three thousand dollars. Let us hope that we are not to have a repetition of these murders for many years to come.

The farm has been managed to our satisfaction the past year. The Superintendent, Mr Philbrick, has been faithful to his trust, and his wife has managed the large household with prudence and economy. Their management will compare favorably with any who have preceded them.

We would state that your Commissioners are only allowed by law to be present at the first week of Court, unless the presiding justice will issue a special license for them to remain longer. Therefore we request the selectmen of the various towns to put in an early appearance, that their account may be adjusted as soon as possible after the meeting of Court.
